NEW ALBANY SYMPHONY FILM COMPETITION

The New Albany Symphony is a community orchestra that presents a four-concert season at the McCoy Center for the Arts in New Albany, Ohio. Well-known for its creative collaborations, New Albany Symphony will reach out to local film makers this year in its first “film-competition!” The New Albany Symphony wishes to further the art of filmmaking in Columbus, Ohio, by inspiring filmmakers to create a silent film that will be set to live music. The winning film will have its public premier with live orchestra on the final concert of the season – April 30, 2017.

The competition is open to any Ohio resident. The link to the music that will be performed alongside the film can be found here
